9 MONTH ONLINE PROGRAM

As a certified Erickson and Lanning Concept-Based Curriculum and Instruction (CBCI) Trainer, the opportunities for growth are endless, as are the ways in which you can integrate the certification into your specific career focus.

Whether you plan to lead workshops, coach teachers, or utilize the learning in your classroom, we can change the world together by joining an expanding group of thought leaders focused on transforming education.

You have two choices here . . .

Shared Cost

If your school or organization sponsors you by paying more than 50% of your participation fee for the Certification Institute, you will be certified and licensed to train within the sponsoring school or organization only.

Individually funded

If you fund the Certification Institute yourself, or your school or organization pays 50% of the fee or under, you will not only be certified and licensed to train as an independent consultant, but also have the freedom to advertise yourself, present at conferences, and accept national and international requests to train on Concept-Based Curriculum and Instruction, setting your own fee structure.

Becoming Certified

Format and Key Assessments

There are Four key components to becoming a certified trainer:

1) Complete all four online, self-paced courses and associated assignments (two) and attend 90% of the group calls.

The courses focus on different aspects of the Concept-Based Curriculum and Instruction approach and how to apply the CBCI pedagogy in different disciplines. They include self-paced video modules, with an expected time commitment for completion of approximately two to three hours per week.

Four weeks of the year are designated as vacation breaks, and no new materials are released during those weeks.

- Course 1: Concept-Based Curriculum and Instruction for the Thinking Classroom (assignment required)
- Course 2: A Closer Look at Process (assignment required)
- Course 3: Coach, Collaborate or Consult
- Course 4: Leading CBCI Workshops

Group Zoom calls are held most weekends, and 90% attendance is required. PLI also holds virtual group sessions each Saturday of the year, excluding vacation breaks and some assessment periods.

The expected time commitment is one or two hours per week.

- Ten of these calls are virtual lessons with PLI's Subject Specialist team. This includes five lessons focusing on crafting generalizations in different disciplines and five classroom simulation lessons.

2) Complete an online Written Assessment

This focuses on the critical components of Concept-Based Curriculum and Instruction. The Educator must score 80% or higher to pass this assessment.

3) Performance Assessment

You will present two modules from a Concept-Based Curriculum and Instruction workshop in a 20-minute performance assessment.

4) Concept-Based Unit and Lesson Design Assessment

You will design your own Concept-Based unit and teach at least one of the lessons from your unit. The submissions required are:

- A Concept-Based Curriculum Unit designed by the Educator.
- One Concept-Based lesson plan for the unit.
- A video of classroom practice teaching or team teaching the Concept-Based lesson.
